Reynolds & Reynolds announces Change of Name to Pentana Solutions

Reynolds & Reynolds has announced its new name of Pentana Solutions. The Company is the leading supplier of Information Technology and Communications solutions to the automotive and associated industries across the Asia Pacific region.

The name change to Pentana Solutions is a result of the expiry of a right-to-use name agreement with Reynolds and Reynolds (US). Steve Kloss, CEO, says "Our Company has grown steadily and has significantly developed the many great solutions and services we deliver. The name change reflects our innovative and diverse range of services and solutions we deliver."

"Pentana comes from 'Pente' which is Greek for five, and 'Solutions' are what we deliver to our customers every day. 'Pentana Solutions' was chosen to be our new name, and gives us the power to deliver through five key foundations in two areas – our Customers and our Solutions. The core foundations reflect the value we live by for our customers and the vision we have for our solutions."

In addition to our Head Office in Melbourne, we have offices throughout Australia, and International Offices based in major global business centres including China, New Zealand, the Philippines and Thailand. Our business will be called 'Pentana Solutions' in all these regions.

Steve Kloss says "We look forward to a bigger, brighter and bolder future with our clients as we move forward. This is simply the next step in our never ending journey"
